Role and Purposes	This subject contributes to the achievement of the program outcome by broadening, updating and deepening students' knowledge of Fintech in general (Outcome 1). The Faculty of Business at The Hong Kong Polytechnic University collaborates with premier international institutions to provide opportunity for selected students to join programmes offered by these institutions. These programmes provide learning experience in various fintech-related areas where students will find practical innovative solutions to complex business challenges. It also provides students the chance to 'globalize' their contacts file with senior executives from different parts of the world.
Subject Learning Outcomes	Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Acquire knowledge of subjects not offered in the DFinTech programme. Gain global perspective of the subject matters introduced by the provided institute; Get connected with other participants who are leaders in their respective areas and regions; As the content of this subject varies from year to year, students attending any of the programmes offered should visit websites of relevant institutions for further information.
Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus	The content varies from year to year but will be in the fintech areas
Teaching/Learning Methodology	The overseas executive programmes include seminars or classes held at IMD. By completing one written assignment, assessed by a PolyU faculty member, students attending one of the programmes offered by the aforementioned institutions can earn only 3 credits whether they opt for taking 1 or more than 1 programmes. The written assignment will be an individual report, reflecting on what has been learned from the programme that students attended, with insights drawn from the seminars, lectures, reading materials, and the in-class discussions etc. It can be divided into two parts: Part 1: A review of the course(s) and the associated readings of the chosen theme. Students are expected to demonstrate that they have acquired an in-depth understanding of the chosen theme or interest areas. The reflection should incorporate a summary of the lectures, cases, articles and discussions, as well as a critical review of the key concepts and practices covered in the course(s) of the chosen theme or interest areas. Part 2: A personal reflection on the seminars or lectures that students attended, highlighting some key messages.
